Dear Mr. Weisberg,

I have received your kind response of March 28 to our invitation to the Humanities Festival held at the end of May. As a matter of fact, I have never received such a well-documented and understandable declination. All the more reason to have you with us. Though our budget is severely limited, we are willing to pay air transportation expenses and the admittedly small honorarium of $75.00.

If you are still unable to attend, simply send us back the enclosed postcard marked "NO". However, if you are able to come, send us back the "YES" postcard with the time marked down when you would like to come (May 28, 29, 30 from 8:00 A.M. to 2:00).

In any case, thank you for the booklist. It will be circulated.

Sincerely,

Jeffrey M. Goodman
